C. OF C. CHOOSES NINE DIRECTORS; BY-LAWS APPROVED

Enthusiasm and keen interest marked sessions at City Hall and preparations are made for an entertaining annual meeting Wednesday night—The New Directorate.

Announcement of the results of the Chamber of Commerce election for the nine directors who will constitute the governing body under the reorganization, and approval of changes in the present by-laws by the old Board of Directors, marked the session of the chamber at city hall Monday night. The interest which has been aroused ever since the expansion movement was launched continued in evidence throughout the proceedings and the reading of the returns by Cornelius Hume was the occasion for an outburst of enthusiasm that augurs well for the success of this movement.

Two new memberships, those of Willis Hills, district manager of the New York Telephone Company, and George J. Holmes, were received bringing the total to 377 members.

The vote on the directors was as follows:

|                      |     |
|----------------------|-----|
| R. E. Leighton       | 213 |
| Palmer Canfield, Jr. | 159 |
| Thomas A. Horton     | 146 |
| W. C. Kingman        | 139 |
| Edward Cockendall    | 138 |
| E. H. Bogart         | 132 |
| Peter Barnman        | 108 |
| John B. Kearney      | 101 |
| Joseph M. Herbert    | 95  |

The remaining eighteen candidates selected at the informal primary received votes ranging from 46 to 94. A total of 273 of the 377 members voted and the contest was entirely friendly.

The tellers were the same who served in the primary: Messrs. Cornelius Hume, Chief of Police J. Allan Wood, Alderman Walter P. Crane, F. L. Thornberry and John R. Millard.

New By-Laws Approved.

Previous to the taking up of the canvass of the vote the old board of directors held a meeting at which the report of the committee in charge of revising the by-laws was read and approved. The by-laws, as amended, were read by Thomas J. Comerford and on motion of Jay E. Klock were unanimously approved. The adoption of these by-laws will be a matter to come before the members at the annual meeting on Wednesday night.

A vote of thanks was extended to the committee which was composed of A. E. Dederick, chairman; Mr. Comerford, Captain Frank L. Meagher, E. H. Bogart and S. M. Watts.

The meeting then adjourned.

Fun at Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the chamber Wednesday night will be called to order at 8 o'clock by President Leighton in the common council chamber, city hall. It will be the thirtieth annual meeting of the organization. Reports of Secretary J. E. Canfield, and Treasurer W. M. Davis will be presented. The board of directors will report on the revision of the by-laws and action will follow thereon. President Leighton is also down for remarks.

Announcement of the election of new officers by the new board of directors will be made at this time and an address will be made by Col. C. A. Simmons, secretary of the Poughkeepsie Chamber of Commerce.

To Hammer the Hammer.

A skit will also be presented which will have a direct application to adverse influences outside the membership in the chamber. It is entitled, "Farwell Session of the Board of De-Wreckers of the 'It-Can't-Be-Done' Club, whose expiring motto is: 'Start Something—We Stand Ready to Knock.' There will be the Head-Knocker's Address. Reports of the Scribe and Bursar. Committee for Preservation of the Sacred Tax Rate. Committee on Suppression of the Dangerous Ambition to Do Things.

From the proceedings of this annual chorus, the membership proposes to extract some fun from conditions which have greeted the inauguration of this and similar expansion movements in cities. A lot of entertainment is promised the members who attend this, the first meeting of the reorganized Chamber of Commerce of the City of Kingston.

CAN'T SHIP BOOZE INTO DRY STATES

Webb-Kenyon Law Upheld by Supreme Court Which Also Sustains West Virginia Statute Against Importation of Liquor for Personal Use.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 9.—In the most sweeping of all decisions upholding prohibition laws, the supreme court Monday upheld as constitutional and valid the Webb-Kenyon law prohibiting shipments of liquor from "wet" to "dry" states. It also sustained West Virginia's recent amendment to its law prohibiting importation in interstate commerce of liquor for personal use.

After having been vetoed by President Taft, who held it unconstitutional, and having been repassed by congress over his veto, the law was sustained by the supreme court by a vote of seven to two. Leaders of the prohibition movement declare it is their fight second only in importance to the proposed constitutional amendment.

WORK CONGRESS MUST ACCOMPLISH

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 9.—In order to avoid an extra session, congress in 47 general legislative days remaining to the senate and 39 remaining to the house, must accomplish an overwhelming amount of work. Following are the principal tasks as yet unaccomplished:

The entire body of President Wilson's supplemental railroad legislation, begun by the enactment of the Adamson eight hour law last session.

Fifteen big appropriation bills, besides urgent deficiency bills, of which only five, the Indian, legislative, District of Columbia, diplomatic and consular, and agricultural bills, have passed the house.

Possible new revenue legislation to meet an ever-increasing deficit facing the treasury.

Immigration bill, which, with the literacy test included, has passed both houses, but faces the promised veto of President Wilson, thereby necessitating action on it again in both houses.

Corrupt practices act, passed by the house last session and now before the senate in such form as to be practically a new measure when it gets back to the house.

Webb bill permitting formation of organizations to promote export trade—passed by the house but opposed in the senate.

District of Columbia and nationwide prohibition bills.

Some kind of compulsory military training and service bill, bound to meet stern opposition in both houses.

Enactment of vocational training bill—already passed by the senate.

ADAMSON LAW BATTLE CONTINUES

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 9.—The legal battle over the constitutionality of the Adamson eight hour day law was continued today before the supreme court.

Meanwhile official Washington was measuring the possibility of a general strike order emanating from the conference of railroad brotherhood local chiefs called to meet in Chicago this week.

The railroads asserted before the supreme court that the Adamson Law was not in any sense a regulation of the hours of service of railroad employees, but rather was an arbitrary attempt to increase the wages of men. They pointed out that there was no provision in the law for forcing operating employees to quit their work at the end of eight hours or to punish the railroads if they employed them for a longer time. The law, they said, was clearly an effort to force the railroads to pay their men a larger wage while allowing them to work the same length of time as they now do.

This condition, the railroad lawyers contended, made the law an unconstitutional attack upon the property of the roads. They asserted that by arbitrarily increasing the pay of the railroad employees, congress sought to deprive the roads of their property, to confiscate their funds, without due process of law.

The railroads' argument preceded the final effort of the government attorneys to uphold the constitutionality of the law. The government, as the defendant in the test case, had the privilege of closing the argument, and Frank Hagerman, the special assistant to the attorney general, in charge of the case, was assigned to make the final appeal.

Buffalo Bill Still Alive.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Denver, Col., Jan. 9.—William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) was still alive early today but Dr. J. H. East, his physician, said that death was only a question of a short time.

KING OF GREECE GETS BREAD CARD

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Jan. 9.—That the Allies, at their war council in Rome, decided upon action of the most drastic kind towards Greece was indicated by dispatches received here today.

The Times understood that an ultimatum was drawn up and forwarded to Athens along with a demand for an immediate reply.

According to the Times this ultimatum calls for the acceptance of all Allied previous demands forthwith.

Disorders continue in Greece and the revolutionary situation has become perilous. Thousands are starving and there is a scarcity of fuel and clothing.

A press despatch states that King Constantine has applied for a bread card just like any other citizen of Athens.

ROY HINDERLITER

THESSIE RADCLIFFE

"AIR BUBBLE" MURDER TRIAL BEGINS.

Olney, Ill., Jan. 9.—Roy Hinderliter, accused of killing Miss Elizabeth Radcliffe by forcing air bubbles into her veins, is on trial for his life here today.

Glenn Jones and Earl Berry, his chums, told identical stories of coming to Olney on the afternoon of July 21 and of the buying of a surgical instrument at a store. Berry told how, the morning after, the girl's death, following her fatal bug by ride, he was asked by Hinderliter to go down the lonely road beside the orchard and pick up the instrument and destroy it. He was also asked, he said, to secrete a revolver, slungshot and a bottle of carbolic acid, which were in the prisoner's buggy.

"It might look bad for me if these were found," Berry declared Hinderliter said.

ALLIES' REPLY EXPECTED SOON

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Jan. 9.—Special pains have been taken by Allied governments to render a satisfactory reply to President Wilson's peace initiative, it was stated in semi-official circles today.

According to the present belief the reply will be on its way within the next 48 hours at most, and the official text will probably be given out for publication simultaneously in Europe and the United States on Friday or Saturday.

The Allied governments have dealt at length with the various principles concerned in the note, especially the terms.

It is understood that the Near East question has been treated to a considerable extent. However, whether the Entente governments will go so far as to give the detailed demands in that connection is a matter of conjecture.

It has already been stated officially in Petrograd that the Allies have promised Constantinople and the Dardanelles to Russia if they are victorious and so, in view of this, it is possible that the demands will be definitely laid down.

It is understood that the note has undergone many changes since the first draft was outlined.

TOO MUCH FUDDLE JUICE CAUSED IT

Indulging in too great a quantity of fuddle juice caused two men to be summoned before Recorder Lang this morning. In neither case was an arrest made. The first case was that of a young man, who has heretofore borne an unblemished name who got so drunk in a downtown saloon that he began to indulge in the pastime of throwing nine billiard balls through one of the saloon windows. He settled for the damage and took the pledge for six months.

Trouble between a man and his wife caused by too much stagger juice brought them both to police court where the wife said she was willing not to press a charge against her husband.

The court advised the man to try and make a man of himself and climb aboard the water wagon and support his family.

A complaint by a man that a neighbor of his had stolen some barrels of wood from him brought the woman to court this morning accompanied by an attorney. She said she had had no intimation of what she was accused of and had not taken the wood. There was no appearance on the part of the complainant and the case was dismissed by the court.

FILLED WITH JOY WATER IN JOY'S LANE

That is What Evangelist Peacock Will Talk About to the Men on Sunday Afternoon—Services Resumed at Tabernacle.

Sunday afternoon Evangelist L. K. Peacock will speak to the men of the city at the Delaware Avenue Tabernacle on the topic, "Chickens Come Home to Roost." This meeting will be for men only. The same afternoon Miss Speer, a member of the evangelistic party, will address a meeting for women only at the Wurts Street Baptist Church.

Saturday evening the music at the tabernacle will be furnished by a children's choir.

Services resumed today at the tabernacle and will be held every afternoon at 2 o'clock and every evening at 7.30 o'clock. The evangelist will speak at all the meetings.

Virgil still had part of a cargo of joy juice aboard, and the court advised him to stand further back away from the rail.

"What is the matter with your hair?" asked the court as he eyed Virgil.

"Nothing," replied Virgil. "My brother cut it all right but it just grew in wrong."

Virgil's hair cut looked as though some one had taken a pair of clip-pers and tried how many side tracks and paths he could run through the hair, and it was the oddest looking hair cut that had been seen in recorder's court in many, many moons.

"Ten days in jail to sober up," was the verdict of the court after Virgil had made his explanation with regard to his hair cut.

Mr. Collins was arraigned next and said that while he might have been in Joy's Lane at the same time that Virgil was that he and Virgil had not been spending the night together. Mr. Collins said he had a sore knee and the court replied: "Well, I'll send you to jail for ten days to straighten up."

"Thank you, your honor," said Thomas, "and my leg should be healed by that time."

PETER AUGUSTINE SIGNALLED FOR COP

Monday evening Peter Augustine, who resides at No. 79 Ann street, turned in an alarm from police signal box No. 41, to which Policeman O'Neil responded. The officer learned that Mr. Augustine found two men trying to break into his house, but they had been scared off when he turned in a citizen's call on the alarm box. He furnished the officer with a description of the men, but they were not apprehended.

LAWSON SAYS LEAK WAS A GOOD THING

Persistently Refuses to Tell Names of Those Who Profited by the Leak or Those Who Gave Information.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 9.—When the "leak" investigation was renewed today before the house rules committee, Thomas W. Lawson again took the stand and Representative Bennett of New York tried again to make him tell the names of the congressman who told him a cabinet member profited by the leak. Lawson still declined to answer.

His persistent refusal to answer questions brought on another row and caused Representative Bennett to make another motion to hold Lawson in contempt before the house.

Representative Bennett tried to make Lawson tell the name of the banker referred to as having handled the stock transactions of a cabinet member in connection with the leak on the peace note.

Lawson made an evasive answer. Representative Bennett appealed to the chair to compel Lawson to make a categorical answer. Chairman Henry tried to make Lawson answer or decline to answer, but Lawson refused. Thereupon Representative Bennett made his contempt motion with a request that it lie on the table until after Lawson concludes his testimony. The request was granted and the motion will be voted on later in the day.

"The leak was really a good thing," Lawson told the committee. He declared the leak was weeks coming and that if there had been no advance information the break in the market would have been much more violent and much more disastrous to the country.

"The leak put wise operators in a position to know what to do when the official news came," he explained. "As it was we had no bank failures although losses were almost as heavy as in a panic."

Lawson said he had placed orders for stock transactions with H. Condit & Co., 111 Broadway, and said the order "might have spread through scores of other brokers."

Asked if he had dealt in steel during the December 18 break, he answered that he had, but asked to what extent, he said:

"I can't tell and I won't guess."

Lawson said he did not know the extent to which he had engaged in stock transactions during December.

Asked by Representative Chapman whether $500,000 was a mere bagatelle to him, Lawson replied: "$500,000 is $500,000 to me."

"That is the most definite statement you have yet made," replied Chipfield.

Chipfield tried to pin Lawson down to a direct admission when he first heard of the "leak" but Lawson again evaded.

"I'm not going to quibble with you," retorted Lawson.

"I want a direct answer—I'm not seeking to establish personal relations with you," said Chipfield.

"You're dreadfully fair—I want to thank you," drawled Lawson, and Chairman Henry intervened to block another threatened explosion.

GERMAN TROOPS ARE WELL FED

Prisoners Have the Best, While British Fight For a Piece of Beef, Canadian Officer Says.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Jan. 9.—The British soldier in the trenches gets "embalmed beef" and the German soldier gets "something better," according to Captain Reginald Bertram, one of the few survivors of the famous Princess Pat's Regiment who arrived from Liverpool on the St. Paul today.

Captain Bertram, en route to his home in Alberta, Canada, with his bride, who nursed him after he was wounded, said that captured German soldiers had "the best of everything" in their knapsacks.

"The poor British soldier has to fight for a good piece of beef. He is a dabb," the captain said.

If captured German prisoners are any indication of internal conditions in Germany, then there is no sign of peace, according to Bertram. He said he had yet to see a captured German either hungry or ragged.

HUGE VICE TRUST FOUND IN CHICAGO

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—Promises of arrests which will disclose the existence of a great "vice trust" were made today by Macley Hoyne, states attorney. Already nine men and four women are either under formal arrest, or detained in jail, and Chief of Police Charles C. Healey is under bonds of $100,000 on charges of extortion, conspiracy to obstruct justice and accepting bribes.

Hoyne charges that the "trust" which involves police and city officials as well as agents of reform organizations, has collected $10,000 a week from the underworld in bribes and thousands of dollars from other sources.

A raid on the office of Thomas Costello, alleged to be a professional "fixer" netted several parcels of bills, marked by agents of the state and circulated in the underworld, Hoyne said.

Hoyne's detectives held warrants for the arrest of two police lieutenants and two under police officials. Already under arrest are Police Lieutenant A. M. White, Thomas Costello, William Skidmore, saloonist, and "Mike de Pike" Heitler, known as "Boss of the West Side Levee."

BRICK IN DEMAND IN NEW ENGLAND

The "Dow Service Daily Building Reports" of New York says: "The year opens with further price advances. Common Hudson brick is the only basic commodity that does not show a shift. They remain at $9 a $9.50, wholesale, dock, New York. Some idea of the strength of the market, despite the poor weather of last week, is shown in the fact that Springfield, Conn., manufacturers are getting $10 a thousand for brick under manufacturers' sheds. For the first time in more than a decade common Hudson brick has been shipped by barge to New Haven, Conn., to relieve the heavy pressure in that section. Further evidence of the demand for brick was shown in the effort to bring down a tow from Newburgh over the holiday, four days being required in transit, with a loss of one barge, containing $50,000 brick, consigned to John B. Rose Company. Most of these barges were loaded only in part, because there were not men available to give them full tonnage."

BROOKLYN REGIMENT BACK FROM TEXAS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Jan. 9.—The Twenty-third New York Infantry arrived in New York from the Texas border today.

A reception committee greeted the returning soldiers at Weehawken where they boarded ferry boats and were taken to Brooklyn. Governor Whitman reviewed the returning troops in parade and Senator-elect Calder delivered an address of welcome.

Diamonds by Submarine.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Jan. 9.—A despatch from Amsterdam today quotes the Handelsblad as saying that German dealers will shortly send $250,000 worth of cut diamonds to the United States in a submarine. Underwriters have agreed to insure the shipment at 11 per cent against capture.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JAN. 9, 1917

Publicly denied, with some people, maketh the heart sick. Among other things, the war has been responsible for crowding Thomas W. Lawson out of the daily news and it was not until a scandal developed through Wall Street speculation, based on advance news of the President's peace note, that opportunity knocked at the door of the author of Financial Fiasco. The manner in which Mr. Lawson availed himself of this opening for a place on the center of the stage is typical of the man. The vague generalities and the withholding of names and definite data which marked this notorious-looking individual's testimony before the House Committee on Rules are likewise typical. A maximum of excitement and a minimum of evidence sufficient to warrant an investigation was all that the day's session afforded. Secretary of State Lansing's contribution had the most direct bearing upon the alleged "leak." This member of the Cabinet whose explanation of his explanation of the note in question was productive of such a wave of hysteria, owned to making a general statement to the newspaper men in the presence of two naval officers and an international broker, Dr. Albert A. Snowden. That the importance of the communication and its effect on stock market conditions were apparent to Dr. Snowden is shown by his statement that he immediately figured out a shrinkage of twenty billions of dollars in the paper value of American wealth as a result of this information. That so important a matter as the President's note could be mentioned with such freedom without inspiring some persons to reap a profit in the market is unthinkable. But something beside the indebitate inuendoes aired by Mr. Lawson is intended upon which to base a Congressional inquiry.

Print paper scarcity is beginning to hit nearer home. The Hudson Republican announces a new policy of curtailing some of its features in order to economize on space while the subscription list has increased its subscription price. Almost every newspaper in the Hudson Valley has gone over its exchange and "free" lists with a fine-tooth comb, the result being the elimination of hundreds of extra copies and the reduction to a minimum in the number of newspapers distributed in this wise. The country weeklies whose use of print paper is but a small item in the expense of production, have also run down on unnecessary copies and many of them are considering a raise in subscription rates to follow the increased advertising rates already in effect with many publications. Where the mounting expense of getting out a newspaper will end, no man can state with any degree of accuracy. There is one field of newspaper effort, the Sunday edition, which has not yet experienced any marked abbreviation in size yet in so far as real usefulness is concerned, several of their multitudinous sections could be well spared. The Sunday newspaper is not a newspaper in the true sense of the word outside of its telegraph, local and editorial sections. Some of the sport features might be retained, but for the most part the sporting sections of the metropolitan newspapers are glittering examples of waste running riot. The valuable space that is devoted to silly reviews of lighters and well-padded accounts of conditions in sports that are out of season might better be curtailed by any of conserving the supply of print paper. Some such step is inevitable if paper continues to soar in price. It is, indeed, an ill wind that blows nobody good. If much of this extravagant matter should be cut for this reason, the public and the fourth estate would both have cause for thankfulness.

State Commissioner of Health Hermann M. Biggs has been granted a leave of absence to go to France, where he will investigate measures for the relief and control of tuberculosis for the Rockefeller foundation. Commissioner Biggs will endeavor to ascertain the lines along which American sympathy and general city can be made most effective in combating the disease. Undoubtedly, the important State Department headed by Dr. Biggs can get along under direction by cable as well as by long-distance telephone and the fact is one that should not favor among other State Departments. Now if Henry Ford will only come forward with a commission to send Secretary Hugo abroad to study the effects of leaving license plates of the "links" in the field, the benefits of foreign travel upon public officials would be further augmented. The Commissioner of Agriculture could find much of value in a personal scrutiny of the effect of the leaf spray upon the forests of Argonne. The Housing Commission could go as a body to find out why the main art of self-defense fails to inspire Les Darcy and Freddie Welsh to seek championship honors on the field of battle. There is no end to the investigations that might be projected into this almost untrodden field. We trust that State officials will not permit difference or lack of interest in the modern ideal of the absent treatment for the public service to keep them from booking passage for the war zone at the earliest opportunity.

NEW TAX FOR MOTOR BUSES.

Big Boost Planned for This Class of Vehicles.

Under a proposed schedule of fees, operators of automobile buses between Kingston and nearby places, will have to pay more for their licenses, provided the schedule is approved by the legislature. The rates will range from $15 to $67.50 instead of the present uniform tax of $5 a year. This schedule has been submitted to Secretary of State Hugo by the Motor Truck Commission, composed of State Engineer Williams, Superintendent of Public Works Wollaston and Commissioner of Highways DeWitt. Any changes made are to become effective February 1. The commission investigated damages to highways by motor trucks and found that the new schedule provides for a minimum fee of $15 for buses with a seating capacity of five persons or more. The tax is gradually increased, according to the number of passengers, to a maximum of $67.50, which is the fee for vehicles carrying 27 and less than 30. Vehicles carrying more than 30 are to be taxed $2 for each additional passenger. The schedule of fees for motor trucks carrying merchandise ranges from $10 to $70.

EVANGELISTS MAY ADDRESS SCHOOL

Board of Education Takes no Action to the Contrary. After a Full Discussion—Surrogate Gill Elected President.

Surrogate Walter N. Gill, who has capably and efficiently filled the office of member of the board of education for the past two years and previously had filled a full term of five years, was unanimously elected president of that body at its annual meeting at the high school Monday night.

The meeting was called to order by Superintendent Michael, who explained its object and the charter provisions. Trustee Virgil B. Van Wagonen was elected temporary chairman. Those present were Trustees Gill, Van Wagonen, Washburn, Atkins, Kearney and Hale, who have been trustees during the past year, and Trustees Joseph M. Schaeffer and Addison E. Dederick, who were recently appointed by Mayor Canfield. Trustee Harry H. Flemming, who was also appointed by Mayor Canfield, was unable to be present, not having entirely recovered from a recent operation.

Surrogate Gill For President.

Trustee Hale placed Surrogate Gill in nomination. He said he wished to name a man who was fully competent, who had for a long time been a member of the board, who thoroughly understood the schools and their needs and whose reputation for accomplishment in the past was good. "None among us is superior of has better qualifications," said Mr. Hale, "than Walter N. Gill, whom I take pleasure in nominating."

The nomination was seconded by Trustee George W. Washburn, and on motion of Trustee Ernest W. Kearney the board proceeded to ballot. Trustees Kearney and Schaeffer were appointed tellers.

The vote resulted: Gill, 7; blank, 1. Surrogate Gill modestly refrained from voting for himself.

Trustees Atkins and Dederick were appointed to escort President Gill to the chair. In taking the chair, President Gill said: "I thank you for this unsolicited and undeserved compliment in being chosen to preside over your deliberations. I take this occasion also to welcome the new members to our council table and participation in our deliberations."

Washburn Re-elected Vice President.

For vice president, Trustee Kearney nominated Trustee George Washburn, who has held that position during the past year.

Trustee Virgil B. Van Wagonen, in seconding the nomination, said: "My association with Mr. Washburn, my observation of his work as a member of this board, his interest in educational work and the deep interest he has displayed in the welfare of the coming generation, the appreciation of him expressed by those who know of his work, the high regard in which he is held by his fellow members and by the teachers and more especially by the students, all of which are far more than the appreciation of members of the board and teachers—warrants his continuation in this office. He has at heart the best interests of the schools and more than that the best development of the school children, and to a man who has that at heart too much praise cannot be given."

Trustee Washburn was unanimously elected, refraining from voting for himself.

"I am somewhat embarrassed by the remarks of the proposer and second," said Mr. Washburn, "but I think you for the compliment."

Discussion Over Evangelists.

Superintendent Michael requested the advice of the board on the subject of visiting evangelists speaking before the high school students at their chapel exercises. When evangelists are here, he said, requests were made for them to address the students. These requests did not come from anyone connected with the high school management. It was safe to say that if the evangelist now holding meetings held should address the students, he would not speak on a religious issue but on a high moral topic. "Ought," Ps. 50, 1-15. (A pledge meeting).

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sahler of Ulster Park were guests of C. C. Haines and family on Sunday.

Lester Vining and family were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Planck on Sunday.

And Be More Pious.

This would be a better world if the turkeys would devote less attention to feathers and gobble and more to white and dark meat.—Chicago News.

tabernacle specially constructed for the evangelistic services where the students could attend if they wished. On account of closing the schools early in the fall, the school year necessarily would be short and the minds of the students should not be diverted by anything during the school hours that was at all foreign to the school work. His attitude on this proposition would be the same no matter what religious movement might seek the use of the high school to have speakers address the students during school hours.

"Would not the same result be accomplished if the students should be invited at the chapel exercises to attend the services?" asked Trustee Washburn.

"I would raise the same objection to that," said Mr. Van Wagonen. "In such a case everyone would have a right to object."

Trustee Kearney said that when Tullar and Meredith, the evangelists, were in Kingston last winter, they both visited the high school, where they were thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated. One spoke and the other sang and taught a song to the school. It didn't take much time, but it left an impress. No prince or potentate had disturbed the board since that time for permission to speak.

"I have no objection," said Trustee Atkins. "I'm not afraid."

Trustee Dederick said it opened the door to requests which the board might find itself compelled to refuse.

Trustee Hale said the evangelist would not talk on religion but only on character.

Trustee Kearney said he felt sure the evangelist would be very careful just as Mr. Tullar had been. On leaving the hotel to go to the high school he had advised Mr. Tullar to be careful, to which Mr. Tullar had replied that he had spoken before schools and high schools wherever he had gone and nobody ever objected to what he said. Mr. Tullar had gone to the high school, said Mr. Kearney, upon his invitation and as his guest.

"He didn't do any harm, did he?" asked Mr. Atkins.

"He did me good," said Mr. Kearney.

A motion by Trustee Washburn to table the matter was lost by the following tie vote: Ayes—Messrs. Washburn, Van Wagonen, Dederick, Schaeffer, Knox—Messrs. Gill, Kearney, Atkins, Hale.

Dodge Concert Friday Night.

A communication was received from Harry P. Dodge requesting the use of the auditorium for the second and third of his concert series, for Friday, January 12, and March 14, on the same conditions as for the concert in November. On motion of Trustee Atkins the request was granted. Trustee Van Wagonen voting in the negative.

The board then adjourned.

Dr. Swinburne of Albany MAKES REMARKABLE CURE OF KINGSTON MAN

The great success of Dr. Swinburne's treatment is again proved by the wonderful results in the cure of a Kingston man, who was supposed to be gradually going down with that dreadful disease, consumption. The case is that of William C. Elvey of Kingston, R. D. No. 1, Box 85, who had suffered for many years with a very bad stomach and chronic cough and all of the doctors he had consulted had failed to control his trouble, until he became reduced in strength and weight and was scarcely able to walk. Hearing of the success of the Albany specialist, Mr. Elvey decided to consult him and last July commenced treatment with Dr. Swinburne. The doctor found that the trouble was an aggravated case of catarrh of the bronchial tubes and also of the stomach, and at the advanced age of over 60 years the prospects did not look very favorable. But now, after four months' treatment, Mr. Elvey is feeling entirely relieved of his trouble, has gained greatly in weight and strength, and has been performing active work that would be a credit to a much younger man. Mr. Elvey feels very grateful to Dr. Swinburne for making him feel like a new man and will be pleased to tell anyone of the positive truth of these facts. Any one suffering from such troubles should see this noted specialist without delay.

No matter how much you are suffering or how severe your trouble may be, you have not half tried to get well unless you have given this specialist a trial. It will cost nothing to see the doctor and talk over your trouble, and if you desire to take treatment the charges will be reasonable.

The doctor has permanent offices at 340 Broadway, Kingston, where patients can secure consultation on Fridays from 9 to 12 a. m., and 1 to 3:30 p. m. Also Thursday evening, 6:30 to 8 p. m.

The work in farm crops will include cultural methods of alfalfa and potatoes; essentials of good corn silage and crop rotations. Special emphasis is placed on the care and management of meadows and pastures, including a careful study of grasses, seeds and seeding mixtures, and the use of lime and fertilizers. The paper for the day was by Mrs. Bogart, whose subject was "Along the Northern Pacific." Both the sketch and paper were full of interest and information. The program closed with a reading given by Miss Antoinette DuBois, "Early Ranch Life in California." The next meeting of the club will be held on January 22, at the home of Mrs. Vrooman on Pearl street.

The Monday Club.

The Monday Club held its first 1917 meeting at the home of Mrs. M. J. Michael this week. Mrs. G. D. B. Hasbrouck had the paper for the day, her subject being "The Congressman's Vision; Statesman or Politician," and a most excellent paper it was. The club is, for the next five weeks, studying the question, "Politics and Diplomacy," and yesterday's paper brought out much discussion, bearing particularly on Mrs. Hasbrouck's paper. The problem of a subject of study for another year came up at this meeting and while many excellent subjects were suggested, no definite action was taken. The club will meet next week with Mrs. G. D. B. Hasbrouck.

Their Tenth Anniversary.

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hampton were pleasantly surprised at their home, No. 92 Clinton avenue, by a large number of friends and relatives dropping in to help them celebrate the tenth anniversary of their wedding. The happy couple were the recipients of a number of useful and handsome gifts including a beautiful gold mounted china dinner and tea set. The evening was pleasantly spent with games, and a musical program was rendered by H. Alexander Pieken of New York, assisted by W.

E. Hampton, a son of the host. At a late hour an elaborate luncheon was served, and early this morning the guests departed for their homes after wishing their host and hostess many more happy anniversaries. Mr. Hampton is a popular letter carrier for Uncle Sam, and both he and his wife have a host of friends.

Scully-Cavanaugh.

Thomas Scully of Bridgeport, Conn., formerly of Wilbur, and Miss May T. Cavanaugh of 445 Abee street were united in marriage on Monday evening at the Church of the Holy Name by the Rev. James S. Prendergast. The bride was charmingly gowned in a dark blue suit and wore a white picture hat and Killarney roses. Miss Veronica Cavanaugh, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, who also was gowned in a blue suit and wore a picture hat and carnations. A bountiful supper was served at the home of the bride, the table being artistically decorated with ferns, Killarney roses, carnations and apple blossoms. Mr. and Mrs. Scully will spend their honeymoon at Niagara Falls and other points of interest. Both are popular young people and have a host of friends who wish them a happy and prosperous married life. Upon their return a beautiful home awaits them in Bridgeport, Conn., where the groom is employed.

Soiskanshade Club.

The Soiskanshade Club ushered in the 1917 season with their annual dinner held at The Stuyvesant. The club colors, purple and green, were carried out in the decorations, which were of Cinerarias and ferns and were very attractive. Each artistically decorated place card bore a short written sketch so cleverly describing the club member to whom it belonged as to be almost as characteristic as her own name. Following the delicious dinner, the club repaired to the home of Mrs. Van Wageningen on John street, where the election of officers took place, resulting as follows: President, Mrs. R. E. Leighton; vice president, Mrs. G. L. Rice; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. G. C. Fisher; Mrs. Joseph F. Belanger and Mrs. C. E. Raynor, additional members of the executive committee. The outline of work for next year was then discussed and it was decided that the roll call should be "divies," the chief topic, "Shakespeare," with the short papers dealing with the subject of "Alaska." The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Raynor at her home on Washington avenue.

Vizoskie-Turner.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hancock, Maple avenue, Peekskill, December 24, Miss Christina Turner of Peekskill was married to Otto Vizoskie of 99 Third avenue, Kingston. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. P. McClelland and took place at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The bride wore a dress of blue silk and carried a bouquet of white roses. She was attended by Miss Gussie Vizoskie, a sister of the groom, and she wore a white crepe. The best man was Charles D. Stottler. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left the house and in the street they were greeted by the improvised brass band led by Drum Major George Stottler, which followed them several blocks. Mr. and Mrs. Vizoskie left for Greenville, N. J., where they enjoyed their wedding supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Stottler. The wedding day was also the twentieth anniversary of the marriage of the groom's parents. Among the guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. M. Vizoskie, Mr. and Mrs. George Stottler of Greenville, N. J., Miss Ruth Stottler, Sherman Turner, Mrs. Frank Eble, Priscilla Stottler, Mrs. G. Watters, Richard Stottler, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hancock, Harold Stottler, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Stottler and daughter, Edith, Mrs. James Dolan, James Dolan, Mr. and Mrs. Gaskom and daughter, Myrtle, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stahl, Edward Stahl, Gussie Stahl, Mr. and Mrs.

Brant, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. M. Harney.

Emanuel Social Club.

Mt. Marion, Jan. 6.—At the kind invitation of Miss E. Niemeyer, the club enjoyed a pleasant sleighing party to her home in East Kingston on Friday evening, December 29. The night was ideal for the long journey, and the members are indebted to A. Van Benschoten for his kindness in taking the sleigh load. On arrival at East Kingston the fun started with a peanut hunt, and many other delightful games followed. Miss Niemeyer prepared a delicious luncheon, which was relished by all, and when it came time to make a start for home the members joined in expressing their appreciation for the lovely time given them by Miss Niemeyer. The Emanuel Social Club held its first meeting of the new year in the Harter residence at Ruby on Thursday evening, January 4, and the members were certainly treated to a real good time. Miss Ella Harder and her brother, Robert, had carefully arranged a program of amusements for the evening, and after the business affairs of the club had been promptly taken care of, started the ball rolling with the popular jungle peanut hunt. Nelson Snyder and Anna May Davis received prizes for finding the most peanuts, while Rodney Sagendorf, who claimed he did not have a keen appetite for elephant food, took the "booby" honors. Space does not permit going into the details of the entire evening's entertainment, but it suffices to say it was a most delightful evening. Each member received a small gold and purple ribbon bow, these being the club's colors, as a souvenir of the occasion. Shortly after midnight, the guests partook of a dainty refreshment, while listening to several phonographic selections, after which the club adjourned until January 18th, at which time it will meet in the home of Roney Sagendorf.

Miss Peterson, Artist at Dodge Concert.

The second of the Dodge subscription concerts will take place on Friday evening of this week at the high school auditorium, when Miss May Peterson, soprano, and now recognized as an American prima donna, will be the artist of the evening. Miss Peterson, who was born in Wisconsin, and who through hard study and complete devotion to her calling, was considered a prima donna of the first rank in the large musical centers of Europe and was making a great name for herself and her country, musically, when the present international strife sent her, with many other great artists, to America to continue her career.

Any Peterson, American prima donna soprano of the opera Comique, Paris, gave her first New York recital in Aeolian Hall, and so favorably impressed the acknowledged musical critics of the metropolis, that the critic of the New York Sun ranked her and one other new comer in the concert field as standing first in a list of twenty-eight. And not only in New York has Miss Peterson achieved success, for in Chicago at the auditorium, she crowded the theatre, an extraordinary feat for one not well known to the Chicago music lovers. Then too, she has met with as gratifying a reception and success in Boston, Washington, D. C., Cleveland, Syracuse, Canton, Milwaukee and in Montreal and Newark as in New York and Chicago. Leaving all these favorable criticisms aside, all who attended the Philharmonic Orchestral Concert, the first of the Dodge Concerts this season, will know, that other concerts under the same management (and all three of the Dodge concerts are this year) must be of the most excellent as well as delightful character.

OLIVE BRIDGE.

Olive Bridge, Jan. 8.—The special meetings at the Tongore M. E.

Mrs. M. E. Reisinger is "pending" some time at Hopewell, N. J., with her husband, who is employed there by the C. N. & E. Railroad.

The surprise party held at George Bishop's New Year's Night was well attended and all had a delightful time.

Hauling lime is the order of the day.

A sleigh load from Kysarika visited this place and attended the dance.

Wilbur Feels To Meet.

The Wilbur Feels will hold a special meeting on Thursday evening at the home of Ned Dougherty at 34 Dewitt street. All members are urged to be present as arrangements of the coming baseball season will be made. The Feels had a very successful season last year, and expect to have even a stronger team this year.

More Improvement.

The new ornamental electric lights have been placed in position at the entrance of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church. These lights were presented to the church by Dr. William J. Cranston, brother of the pastor of this church. They certainly add greatly to the appearance of the front of the church. When lighted they attract a great deal of attention.

Influences the Brain.
Every organ in the body exerts in some way an influence upon the brain. Those whose lives are along the systematic, plodding way—the great crowd of us—have no excuse for “temperamental fits.” If we take care of our health every organ does its duty, and brain and nervous system do not become temporarily poisoned.

Sulphur.
Sulphur is one of the oldest known elements; the ancient Assyrian alchemists regarded it as the principle of combustion on account of its own inflammability, and termed it “brimstone,” meaning literally burning stone, a name now applied popularly to roll-sulphur.

In the Golden Age.
While gold is now the standard of value throughout the world, in the days of old Greece gold and silver were commonly used in the decoration of buildings, when Phidias and the rest of the great sculptors swayed the art of that country.

"DOC" WATERBURY ON PROBATION

Two cases were disposed of at a twenty-five minute session of county court this morning and at the conclusion of this short session a recess was taken until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, when No. 7, Margaret Parker against Ezra Sickler, an action for negligence, will be taken up. Joseph M. Fowler appears for plaintiff and John D. Eckert for defendant.

"Doc" Waterbury appeared before Judge Jenkins, who suspended sentence and he was paroled in the custody of George W. Dumond to whom he is to report once a month and at the end of a year, if his record is still clean, the probation sentence will be dismissed.

The jury was directed to find a verdict for the plaintiff in the action brought by Dr. William H. Connelly against Samuel Auster, an action to recover on an unexpired lease. The case was on appeal from city court. Arthur C. Connelly appeared for Dr. Connelly and there was no appearance on the part of the defendant. The jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of $100 and interest, amounting to $2.37.

The action brought by Cyrus R. Baker against John Demler, which had been placed on the day calendar, was passed for the day as William H. Grogan, attorney for the defendant, was ill and unable to appear. Newton H. Fessenden appeared for the plaintiff. As there were no other cases ready for trial, No. 7 was placed on the calendar and court took a recess until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

REXALL TEAM MET KINGSTON DEFEAT

At the Holy Cross parish house Monday night the Peerless Five of this city defeated the fast Rexall team of Sangerites by the score of 28 to 22. It was the fastest game of basketball played on that court this season. The floor work and the shooting of Van Buren featured for the Peerless, while Peters, of the Rexalls, was the chief point getter for his team. The game was witnessed by a very large crowd and dancing was enjoyed after the game.

PRESBYTERY TO MEET HERE.

Plans to Welcome the Rev. Putnam Cady in Kingston.

A meeting of the North River Presbytery, held in Newburgh Sunday the chief business of which was the confirmation of the action of the judicial commission in the case of Arthur Worthington, the unrepentant former Newburgh minister, preparatory to sending pictures and the facts of the case to the cities of the country, through the proper channels.

Plans were also made for a meeting in Kingston in the near future to receive the new pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, the Rev. Putnam Cady.

It was voted to hold the spring meeting of the Presbytery in the Poughkeepsie Presbyterian Church.

CRIMINAL CASES NEXT WEEK

All except four of the jurors whose names were drawn for the present term of county court responded when their names were called at the convening of county court Monday afternoon. Felix Hess of Rosendale and Simon Krom of Olive were announced to have died; Edward Van Demark of Rochester was absent on account of illness and Martin Anderson of New Paltz was also absent, but no excuse for his absence was known.

Jurors who were excused by Judge Jenkins were Eugene Decker, Wafang, Loria Osterhout, Lloyd Abram Rhoades, Lloyd Charles L. Shufeldt, Woodstock; Chauncey Stokes, New Paltz; Myron S. Teller, Kingston city; Edward Van Demark, Rochester; Edward N. Winter, Kingston city.

Of the cases on the civil calendar, No. 6, Iroquois Manufacturing Company against Oscar W. Mosher, an appeal from justice's court, was set down for argument at county court chambers. Henry Klein appeared for the plaintiff and Joseph M. Fowler for the defendant. Similar disposition was made of No. 11, William H. Connelly against Samuel August, an appeal from the city court. Arthur C. Connelly appeared for the plaintiff and Frank W. Brooks for the defendant.

Will Contests Over the Term.

Three will contests for trial by jury, all of which had been certified to the county court from the surrogate's court, were on the calendar but all were moved over the term. They were the contests over the wills of the Hon. Isaac N. Cox of Ellenville, N. Brown of the town of Lloye and Mary A. J. E. Eastgate of Ellenville. In the Cox will contest, Raymond G. Cox is attorney for the proponent and Judge Clearwater and Corporation Counsel William D. Brinler are counsel for the contestants; in the Brown contest, T. Edward DuBois and DeWitt W. Osterlander represent the proponent and Andrew Wright Lent is counsel for the contestant; in the Eastgate contest, H. Wistlake Coons represents the proponent and Brinler & Campbell represent the contestants.

Inquest in Automobile Case.

An inquest was taken in No. 3, Foster Garage, Inc., against Arthur B. Rose. Newton H. Fessenden appeared for the plaintiff. The action was brought to recover $66 for an automobile contracted between August 18, 1914, and January 22, 1915, and judgment was directed for $72.80.

Criminal Cases Disposed Of.

Of the criminal cases, those in which indictments had been found by the last grand jury and in which the defendants appeared and entered pleas of not guilty, were moved over to the next term of court by their counsel.

District Attorney Traver announced that The People were ready for trial in all the cases of the criminal calendar. Among the cases in which motions will be made later to put the cases over the term are The People against Mendelsohn Shults, The People against Guadagnola, The People against Urban T. Kemble. This will leave the Borella assault case and the Joe Weber murder case as the principal cases for trial. They will be taken up on January 22, when the extra panel of one hundred jurors will be present, but other criminal matters will be moved by District Attorney Traver next week.

A GOOD WINTER HABIT

Many people dread winter because the sudden climatic changes bring colds, grippe, rheumatism, tonsillitis or bronchitis. But thousands of well-informed men and women today avoid much sickness for themselves and their children by taking a few bottles of Scott's Emulsion to make richer blood, fortify the membranes of the throat and chest and create body warmth to resist sickness. Soldiers at war receive cod liver oil; it will also strengthen you.

HUDSON TO PLAY K. H. S. THURSDAY

Before starting out on their voyage over the rough basketball seas the varsity crew will defend their honor in another home game Thursday evening of this week when Hudson will send down a team to do battle, still mindful of a bad drubbing received last year from Kingston. The date was originally Friday but because of the presence of several hundred strongthroated youngsters directly under the auditorium would not be conducive to the best musical appreciation by the audience of the Dodge subscription concert that night, the change was made. Because it is a school night, the game will start at 7:30 instead of 8 o'clock, dancing to be held until 10:30.

EXCELSIOR HOSE TO GIVE BENEFIT

Members of Excelsior Hose Company have decided to stage that popular comedy success, "Hello Bill," for a benefit performance to be produced by a capable cast of home talent under local direction. The date is February 2nd and two performances, a matinee and evening, will be given at Kingston Opera House. In selecting this amusing comedy classic as a vehicle for entertaining the theatre-going public the Excelsior Hose has displayed good judgment and the same is true of its selection of the cast which is as follows:

William Fuller—"Hello Bill" ..... Wm. B. Marit
General William Fuller, U. S. A. .... P. F. McDermott
Christopher Cutting—"Who Fixes Things" ..... G. Lincoln Zetene
Ned Hemingway—"Who Loves Dorothy" ..... Clarence E. Schryver
Dr. Elisha P. Hastings—"Who Just Came Over" ..... Maurice W. Niles

Barton—"The Charming Butler" ..... Herman DuBois

Middletown is Pleased.

"Progress," organ of the Middletown Chamber of Commerce, says in its first issue, dated January 1: "Middletown has something to crow over, and the Chamber of Commerce has supplied the spurs to back up the crow. From a membership of one hundred and one, with dues of $5 a year, to a membership of three hundred and eighty-seven, with dues at $25 a year, signed for three years, was a long step, but it was not too great a step for the citizenship of Middletown. Kingston, nearly twice our size, responded to a similar campaign to the tune of three hundred seventy-seven members. Newburgh, one big sister city, right in the same county, considered a campaign netting three hundred and fifty-one members a big success. Middletown, the smallest in population of the three, may justly crow over being the largest in civic spirit and real aggressiveness. This transformation means that the Middletown Chamber of Commerce has become a community building force rather than a paper organization with an indefinite purpose, and that the future needs of Middletown will receive the prompt and concerted attention that is essential to efficient management."

STREET GOSSIP ABOUT TOWN

"Well there is one place in town, outside of a green house, where grass is growing in the winter time," said the street corner politician to his friend as they met for a chat.

"Where is that?" queried the friend.

"In the Delaware Avenue Tabernacle," replied the politician, with a smile.

"Is that so?" queried the friend.

"Yes, I noticed it the other night while I was there," replied the politician; "it is growing under the seats and under the big stage there is quite a crop of grass."

"What is the reason for the grass growing?" asked the friend.

"Well, there is no floor laid in the building as several inches of sawdust have been spread over the ground, and with ten big stoves running at summer heat the ground has become well heated which has probably caused the grass to sprout as here, and there blades of grass may be seen poking their way up through the sawdust," replied the politician.

Following a pause the friend remarked, "Say, talking about last year having fifty-three Sundays in it, and you explaining that was because 1916 was Leap Year and that it always happened during Leap Year, can you explain why this year has fifty-three Mondays in it?"

"Fifty-three Mondays," said the politician.

"Yes," replied the friend, "and if you don't believe me you can count them on the calendar."

"There is," agreed the politician, as he counted the Mondays.

"Well, and this is not Leap Year, so you can't swing that explanation on me either," said the friend.

"H'm," said the politician thoughtfully, and then with a chuckle he said, "How many days are there in a year?"

"Why," said the friend, "let me see, there are 365 days in 1917."

"You are right," agreed the politician. "Now tell me how many days there are in a week."

"Why seven, any one knows that," said the friend.

"Sure they do," replied the politician.

"Now tell me how many weeks there are in a year," was his next question.

"Why fifty-two weeks of course," said the friend.

"Right again," said the politician. "Now divide fifty-two weeks into 365 days in the year and tell me how many days in the week it gives you?"

The friend figured a minute and said, "Why seven days with one day over."

"That's why you have fifty-three Mondays in this year," said the politician with a smile.

The friend looked blank and asked, "How do you make that out?"

"Just multiply fifty-two weeks by seven days," said the politician, "and it gives you 364 days. Now that means that the extra day is just as likely to be a Sunday, a Monday, a Tuesday or any other day in the week."

"I get you now," replied the friend.

"Do you belong to the Kingston Taxpayers Association?" asked the friend of the politician.

"No," replied the politician, "I do not."

"Why don't you join?" asked the friend.

"What is the use?" said the politician.

"Lots of use. If you are a member you can help reduce the city tax rate," argued the friend.

"How do you make that out?" the politician wanted to know.

"Well, I have not got time to make a full explanation now," said the friend.

"Why by the time I make up my mind to join the organization will be but a memory of the past," said the politician.

"No such thing," argued the friend.

"That is what they said about the Municipal League," reminded the politician.

"Well this is different," said the friend.

"Different? How?" queried the politician.

"I have not got time to explain now," said the friend, as the trolley car stopped at the corner and he got aboard.
